Ammerman, P.C. - Houston, TX
10:00 am	Break
10:15 am 0.75 hr	Judicial Perspective: Doiron and Maritime Contracts The author of the unanimous en banc decision of the Fifth Circuit in In re Larry Doiron, Inc. discusses the difficulty with the previous test for determining whether a contract is a maritime contract, the confusion and conflict in the application of the test to contracts involving drilling and production of oil and gas on navigable waters, and the development of a simpler and more straightforward method to determine whether oilfield contracts are maritime. Hon. W. Eugene Davis, U.S. Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit - New Orleans, LA Kenneth G. Engerrand, Brown Sims, P.C. - Houston, TX
11:00 am 0.50 hr ethics	Ethical Issues When Insurers Won't Fund the Defense There's a gap between Hamel's "fully adversarial trial" requirement and Lyda Swinerton Builders' permission for insureds to "settle or litigate, at [the insured's] option." How insureds and their counsel fill that gap when insurers refuse to defend raises issues from legal creativity to outright chicanery. Samantha Trahan, Trahan Kornegay Payne LLP - Houston, TX
11:30 am 0.75 hr	FMC Primer: The Shipping Act and Regulatory Matters The Federal Maritime Commission (FMC) is the federal agency tasked with regulating international ocean transportation in the U.S. foreign commerce. Review the basic jurisdiction of the FMC and potential issues involving marine terminal operators and ocean common carriers, and survey potential legislative and policy changes affecting the shipping community. Rachel Anne de Cordova, Phelps Dunbar LLP - Houston, TX
