John C. Akard Lecture Delivered by Dr. Janis Sarra

Dr. Janis Sarra is Presidential Distinguished Professor, University of British Columbia and Professor of Law, Peter Allard School of Law. Dr. Sarra is a globally recognized expert in insolvency and bankruptcy law, corporate finance, corporate governance, and securities law. Dr. Sarra was previously Director of the Peter Wall Institute for Advanced Studies, served as Associate Dean of the UBC Faculty of Law, and was founding Director of the National Centre for Business Law. She has been cited with approval in more than 70 superior and appellate court insolvency judgments, including by the Supreme Court of Canada; and has published numerous books and articles on bankruptcy law. Her roles include: Expert Advisor to the UNCITRAL Working Group on Corporate Groups and Cross-Border Insolvency Law, member of the Canadian delegation UNCITRAL Working Group V, INSOL Global Scholar, and Expert Witness to the Canadian Senate Committee on Banking, Trade and Commerce.

Dr. Sarra's Akard Lecture is entitled The Horatio Alger Narrative and the Bankruptcy of Entrepreneurs. The "Horatio Alger story" is well-known: "hard work, honesty and determination, and one will succeed in business." Entrepreneurship has underpinned most economic advances in the past century; entrepreneurs bring new business propositions to the market and deliver a range of products and services to local economies. The businesses they create are key engines of growth and provide the majority of private sector jobs. Yet, arguably, when businesses that entrepreneurs create start to fail financially, be they small or medium enterprises, the bankruptcy system is not particularly responsive. How do we extricate honest but unfortunate entrepreneurs from the ruins of a failed business, liberate them from obligations that can no longer reasonably be met, and allow them to return to economic productivity, while meeting the realistic expectations of creditors and ensuring the integrity of the bankruptcy system? Dr. Sarra will discuss challenges facing entrepreneurs under US and international bankruptcy law, offering some proposals for change.

The John C. Akard Distinguished Lectureship Program was endowed by the generous gifts of many members of the Texas bankruptcy bar in honor of Judge John C. Akard (retired), a 1957 UT Law graduate who served with great distinction for 14 years as the U.S. Bankruptcy Judge in the Northern District of Texas, sitting in Lubbock and throughout much of West Texas. The first Akard Lecture was delivered in 2001 by Professor Elizabeth Warren of Harvard Law School, and formerly of The University of Texas School of Law.
