TRACK B: Regulatory and Operational Hot Button Issues | MACRA, MIPS & More

2:00 pm 0.75 hr 0.50 hr ethics	Regulatory and Operational Hot Button Issues A discussion of the variety of operational, regulatory, and ethical issues relating to on-call arrangements, electronic health records, discrimination, and non-physician practitioners. Moderator: Kathy L. Poppitt, King & Spalding - Austin, TX Panelists: Susan F. Monaco, Tenet Healthcare Corporation - Dallas, TX Allison D. Shelton, Brown & Fortunato, P.C. - Amarillo, TX
2:45 pm 0.75 hr	MACRA, MIPS and More: Making it all Manageable 2016 saw the publication of the MACRA proposed rule, the receipt and review of over 4,000 public comments, and the publication of the final rule. Its provisions contain requirements that fundamentally will change payment of healthcare for Medicare Part B services, impacting both those providers and organizations that contract with them. While payment changes do not go into effect until 2019, those payments will be based off of data created and gathered in 2017. Thus, the time is now. This presentation focuses on understanding the fundamental MACRA platform, focusing on the MIPS portions; the implications of these vast changes, including changes to behavior, delivery of care, operations, finances, and beyond; and the reality of the transition for the near future. David W. Hilgers, Husch Blackwell LLP - Austin, TX Sidney S. Welch, Polsinelli PC - Atlanta, GA

3:45 pm 1.00 hr 0.50 hr ethics	Recent Trends in the False Claims Act and Government Enforcement 2016 proved to be a game changer in the area of False Claims Act (FCA) litigation and government enforcement. One of the most significant events of the year was the Supreme Court's issuance of Universal Health Services v. U.S. ex rel. Escobar, a decision that declared implied certification theory the law of the land but also established a complex and rigorous materiality standard with which lower courts will grapple for years. In addition, 2016 saw the DOJ's implementation of the Yates Memo, the DOJ's interim final rule doubling penalties under the FCA, the Supreme Court's decision declaring that a whistleblower's violation of the seal does not result in automatic dismissal, and CMS's issuance of the final Medicare Parts A/B 60 day rule. Hear a detailed overview of these and other significant developments in the ever-evolving area of government enforcement in the healthcare industry. B. Scott McBride, Baker & Hostetler LLP - Houston, TX Adam Robison, King & Spalding - Houston, TX
4:45 pm 1.00 hr 0.25 hr ethics	Telehealth: Tackling Technology's Legal and Ethical Impact on Healthcare Telehealth is no longer a concept but a reality for providers, payors, employers, and entrepreneurs who are all being presented with emerging technologies that enhance access, improve efficiencies, and reduce costs associated with healthcare. With these new advances in telehealth and telecommunications technologies come an array of legal and ethical issues. Explore these technologies, including evolving audio and visual telecommunications, wearables, mobile medical apps, medical devices, robotics, artificial intelligence, and virtual reality. Sheryl T. Dacso, Seyfarth Shaw LLP - Houston, TX Julian L. Rivera, Husch Blackwell LLP - Austin, TX

10:30 am 0.75 hr	The Realities and Future of Payment and Delivery Reform Concern over rising healthcare costs and increased coverage resulted in the passage of the ACA in 2010. While the future of the ACA is uncertain, it is highly likely that payers, including the government, will continue to seek ways to drive down healthcare costs through payment and delivery reform. Gain insights into the operational realities, legal issues and pitfalls, and successes and failures involved in these healthcare models. Hear updates and details relating to the creation of Clinically Integrated Networks, Care Coordination Entities, Accountable Care Organizations, and other strategies being used to increase efficiency and provide quality care. Explore the successful contracting techniques in today's payer environment, the legal issues of developing and operating a risk-based network, and how employers are reacting to the decrease in their healthcare costs. Moderator: Susan Feigin Harris, Baker & Hostetler LLP - Houston, TX Panelists: Ken Janda, Community Health Choice Inc. - Houston, TX Robert F. Legal Ethics Challenges in the World of Healthcare Cyberthreats: Law, Technology and Professional Responsibility for Healthcare Lawyers

Cyber intrusions—hacking, ransomware, and other threats—make daily headlines, and a growing number of them are aimed at healthcare organizations. Technology-driven crises also pose significant professional responsibility challenges for healthcare lawyers as they prepare to help their clients respond to tomorrow’s cyberthreats today. Data breaches, disclosure issues and, of course, that really unfortunate tweet may involve an interconnected web of thorny legal, technological, and ethical issues. Hear a discussion of the latest cyber risks facing healthcare organizations and key legal ethics challenges in responding to them, along with other ethics and professional responsibility issues facing dial-up healthcare lawyers in a broadband technology world.
