Death of the Private Offering

What are "private" vs. "public" offerings? A case study re-creation of what used to be called a "private" offering, with discussion of all of the issues brought into play by the JOBS Act legislation. What are the requirements under and how do they now work with new federal law? The appropriate content of advertisements should you decide to use them, and must advertisements be pre-approved? How the new federal Rule 506(c) works. Is there still a completely "private" way to conduct an offering and under what restrictions does it operate? How might angel networks make use of the new Rule 506(c)? How will brokers or other intermediaries be able to help issuers under new Rule 506(c)? What about all of the other requirements of a traditional "private" offering? How have they changed, if at all? The panel also discusses efforts afoot to change the balance between federal and state law on a number of issues in these offerings.

How Recent Fiduciary Duty Cases Affect Advice to Directors and Officers of Delaware and Texas Corporations

Boards of Directors continue to face difficult decisions and seek guidance from counsel as they respond to the challenges of both an economy that is in a slow recovery and new legislative and regulatory initiatives. The panel discusses the fiduciary issues that Directors and Officers face in the current M&A market and considers the lessons to be learned from recent decisions of courts in Delaware and Texas concerning the deference afforded Boards to run a sale process, the competing interests of holders of common and preferred stock and debt, the duties of controlling stockholders in a sale process and how to avoid conduct that is oppressive to minority shareholders. The panel addresses fiduciary issues regarding the executive compensation process, Director oversight duties, and dealings with activist stockholders. The discussion also encompasses fiduciary duties in the context of partnerships and limited liability companies, plus ethical considerations in light of the Courts' decisions.

Round Up the Usual Suspects: Aiding and Abetting Liability for Lawyers, Bankers and Accountants in Securities Transactions

When is a secondary actor liable for aiding and abetting securities fraud under state law? Is there any basis for aider and abettor liability under federal law? Does a conspiracy claim solve the problem? What do ethical lawyers need to do to avoid aiding a client's securities fraud? How does SLUSA's preemption of state court class actions factor into all of this? Experts answer these and other questions from both the plaintiff and defense perspectives.
