Fiduciary Duties of Governing Persons of Business Entities

8:30 am 0.50 hr	Derivative and Double Derivative Litigation: The New Legal Frontier in Shareholder Litigation after Ritchie v. Rupe The Texas Supreme Court's decision in Ritchie v. Rupe in June 2014 largely eliminated state law claims by minority shareholders based on oppressive conduct by majority owners, but the Court's decision did not eliminate conflicts between majority and minority owners. The resulting legal landscape is one in which minority shareholders are pursuing breach of fiduciary duty claims against majority owners on a derivative basis. Review post-Ritchie legal developments with a focus on issues related to shareholder derivative litigation in the private company context. Ladd A. Hirsch, Diamond McCarthy LLP - Dallas, TX Jason Fulton, Diamond McCarthy LLP - Dallas, TX
