Litigating in the Unified Patent Court

Session 1 0.50 hr	Litigating in the Unified Patent Court Two and a half years after the UPC’s opening, Chuck Larsen of McDermott Will & Schulte shares lessons from a significant 9-patent case completed in the Paris Central Division and an ongoing infringement litigation before the Munich Local Division. The discussion offers practical insights into how the Court operates in practice, explores intersections with parallel U.S. cases, and highlights evolving strategic implications for global patent strategy and transactions. Charles (Chuck) Larsen, McDermott Will & Schulte - Boston, MA
