

Article 11.07 Habeas Corpus Applications

Michael S. Falkenberg

Supervising Attorney

Post Conviction Writ Section

Court of Criminal Appeals of Texas

What we're doing

- Nuts and bolts of 11.07 habeas corpus procedure
 - How things work, TRAPS to avoid, and some advocacy hints

Disclaimer

I speak for myself, and not for Judges, Clerk, General Counsel, or other lawyers at the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Written Materials

- Mike Stauffacher's Annual Guide to 11.07 Writs of Habeas Corpus and other State Writs, with extensive changes and updates made by the speaker.

What is this “habeas” you speak of?

Nobody benefits from mystery or mystique shrouding The Great Writ.

Why don't people know this stuff?

Texas courts see thousands of writs every year.

Most are filed directly from prison, by prisoners acting on their own behalf.

For practicing lawyers, only appellate prosecutors in busy jurisdictions and a handful of defense lawyers who focus on post-conviction litigation have regular exposure to writ litigation

Find the full text of this and thousands of other resources from leading experts in dozens of legal practice areas in the UT Law CLE eLibrary \(utcle.org/elibrary\)

Title search: Article 11.07 Habeas Corpus Applications

Also available as part of the eCourse

Mandamus, Writs, and Emerging Issues in PDRs

First appeared as part of the conference materials for the 2019 Robert O. Dawson Conference on Criminal Appeals session
"Writs"