

Cybersecurity Update: Risk & Liability

Corporate Counsel Institute

Stephen E. Stein

Thompson & Knight, LLP

May 12, 2017

2016 Overview

TARGETS

Cybersecurity – New/Increased Risks

- The Rise of Ransomware - $1 billion in payments in 2016.

- › Should you pay?
- › How will you pay -Bitcoin?
- › Will your insurance cover ransom payments?
- › What is the view of law enforcement?

3

Thompson & Knight
ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS
Impact

Cybersecurity – New/Increased Risks

- Broader Business Disruption Attacks:
 - › October, 2016 Distributed Denial of Service Attack on Dyn
- Attacks on Networking Devices
 - › Routers, Switches, Firewalls

4

Thompson & Knight
ATTORNEYS AND COUNSELORS
Impact

Cybersecurity – New/Increased Risks

- More sophisticated phishing scams.

- › Google, May 3, 2017
- › Google disabled the accounts
- › Per Google 0.1 percent of accounts affected

5

Thompson & Knight
ATTORNEYS AND ACCOUNTANTS
Impact

Cybersecurity – Industry Practice Trends

- More Questionnaires, Certifications and Audits
- More firms appointing a chief Data Security Officer
- Broader Implementation of Incident Response Plans
- Broader pre-engagement of forensics/legal PR firms

6

Thompson & Knight
ATTORNEYS AND ACCOUNTANTS
Impact

Find the full text of this and thousands of other resources from leading experts in dozens of legal practice areas in the UT Law CLE eLibrary \(utcle.org/elibrary\)

Title search: Cybersecurity Update, Part I: Risk & Liability

Also available as part of the eCourse
2017 Corporate Counsel eConference

First appeared as part of the conference materials for the 39th Annual Corporate Counsel Institute session
"Cybersecurity Update, Part I: Risk & Liability"