

Hypothetical Business Scenario

Nuts and Bolts of LLCs, LPs and Partnerships

1

Mary and Bob are friends who want to form an LLC to own and operate a new restaurant. Bob is a good chef and Mary has run other businesses and has a good eye for marketing and design. They think that they have sufficient funds to open and operate without solicitation of outside capital.

2

Management and Ownership Decisions

3

Management

- Mary and Bob want to determine how best to manage and run their new business. They have two options:
 - Member-Managed
 - Manager-Managed
- Certificate of Formation requirements

4

Member-Managed v. Manager-Managed

- May be preferable if the LLC has only a few members or if all of the members will be actively involved in the business.
- May be preferable if the LLC has a large number of members or if certain members will not be actively involved in the business.

5

- Company Agreement may set the:
 - Number of managers to be appointed or elected by members
 - Method of appointment or election of managers
 - Certain limitations on managers' ability to act in case of special events

6

Find the full text of this and thousands of other resources from leading experts in dozens of legal practice areas in the UT Law CLE eLibrary \(utcle.org/elibrary\)

Title search: Nuts and Bolts of LLCs and Partnerships, Part II: Hypothetical Business Scenario

Also available as part of the eCourse

2018 Nuts and Bolts of LLCs, LPs and Partnerships eConference

First appeared as part of the conference materials for the 2018 Nuts and Bolts of LLCs, LPs and Partnerships session

"Nuts and Bolts of LLCs and Partnerships, Part II: Hypothetical Business Scenario"