

PRESENTED AT

2019 Renewable Energy Law Conference

January 28-29, 2019
AT&T Conference Center
Austin, TX

Supplemental Materials - Developer Perspectives on Hedges, Traditional PPAs and Insurance Related Products

Bruce Thompson

Author Contact Information:
Bruce Thompson
Lendlease Energy Development LLC
bruce.thompson@lendlease.com

Appendix

A Few Facts about Grids, ISOs and Jargon

North American Regional Reliability Councils and Interconnections

A wide area synchronous grid, also called an "interconnection" in North America, is a high-voltage AC power grid at a regional scale or greater that operates at a synchronized frequency (60Hz) and is electrically tied together during normal system conditions. There are four electrical interconnections in North America (there are also small stand-alone grids for Alaska and Hawaii):

Source: North American Reliability Corporation

lendlease

THERE ARE (AT LEAST) THREE NAMES USED FOR THE FOLLOWING CONCEPT:

an entity responsible for the reliable operation of the Transmission System, with the operating tools, processes and authority to prevent or mitigate emergency operating situations in both next-day and real-time operations

“RELIABILITY COORDINATOR” IS THE SAME AS:

“REGIONAL TRANSMISSION ORGANIZATION” (“RTO”), AND:

“INDEPENDENT SYSTEM OPERATOR” (“ISO”)

The ISO maintains equal and open access to transmission systems, administers day-ahead hourly, real-time hourly, ancillary and capacity markets, collects congestion fees and operates the transmission grid. The ISO is non-profit and does not own any part of the physical system.

Find the full text of this and thousands of other resources from leading experts in dozens of legal practice areas in the UT Law CLE eLibrary \(utcle.org/elibrary\)

Title search: Developer Perspective on Hedges, Traditional PPAs, and Insurance Related Products

Also available as part of the eCourse

2019 Renewable Energy Law eConference

First appeared as part of the conference materials for the 2019 Renewable Energy Law session

"Developer Perspective on Hedges, Traditional PPAs, and Insurance Related Products"