EEO-1 Reports and Pay Data

- Employers with 100+ employees, and federal contractors with 50+ employees, are required to disclose employee numbers by job category, race, sex, and ethnicity.
- In 2016, the EEOC proposed adding the disclosure of pay data.
- In 2017, OMB scrapped the revised EEO-1 report. And the National Women's Law Center and the Labor Council for Latin American Advancement sued both the EEOC and the OMB to revive the new EEO-1 report.
- On 3.5.19, the U.S. District Court, in National Women's Law Center v. OMB, reinstated a revised version of the EEO-1 report, which is set to gather compensation information from employers.

DOL Raises Salary Level Test to $35,308

- The current salary threshold for executive, administrative, and some professional exemption is $23,660/year.
- In 2016, the DOL sought to increase the level to $47,476/year, but that was blocked.
- On 3.8.19, the DOL issued a proposal that would raise the salary level to $35,308 beginning January 1, 2020.
