

Gillespie Sanford LLP
Attorneys at Law

Corroborating Evidence: It's Not Just a Swearing Match:
He-said, She-said... [and X, Y, and Z said]

Presented by: Jim Sanford

May 9, 2019

1

“[i]n cases of alleged sexual harassment ...
Americans have grown accustomed to weighing the word of one defendant against that of one plaintiff, the steadfast denial against the angry accusation: he said, she said.”

Eric Pooled, “kiss but don’t tell,” TIME (March 1998)

2

“Uncorroborated plus uncorroborated plus largely uncorroborated is not the accumulation of questions, much less of evidence. It is the duplication of hearsay.”

Bret Stephens, N.Y. Times (October 2018)

3

“testimony in direct conflict, with an implication that truth is therefore undiscoverable.”

William Safire, “On language; He-Said, She-Said,” N.Y. Times (April 1998)

4

A rhetorical dodge

5

#METOO

6

Find the full text of this and thousands of other resources from leading experts in dozens of legal practice areas in the UT Law CLE eLibrary \(utcle.org/elibrary\)

Title search: Corroborating Evidence: It's Not Just a Swearing
Match: He-said, She-said... [and X, Y, and Z said]

Also available as part of the eCourse

2019 Labor and Employment Law eConference

First appeared as part of the conference materials for the 26th Annual Labor and Employment Law Conference session
"Corroborating Evidence: It's Not Just a Swearing Match"