

A photograph of a modern glass office building at dusk. The building's facade is highly reflective, showing the sky and surrounding environment. In the foreground, several people are walking on a paved plaza. Some are sitting on a low concrete bench, while others are walking in pairs or groups. The overall scene is illuminated by the warm glow of the setting sun, creating a mix of blue and orange tones. The Gensler logo is visible in the top left corner.

Office Sector - Demand, Density and Flex Space Systemic Change or a Return to Yesterday?

UT LAW: 2020 BERNARD O. DOW LEASING INSTITUTE

The workplace revolution has accelerated far more dramatically because of the health, social, and economic upheavals we're currently experiencing.

When we return to the office, what will the new experience be? How will it support our new ways of working?

Most people want to return to the workplace, but with significant changes.

The study that surveyed 2,300+ full-time U.S. office workers at companies of 100 or more people from April 16 to May 4 found that only 12% of U.S. workers want to work from home full-time.
