

PRESENTED AT

68th Annual Taxation Conference

December 2-3, 2020

As a Live Webcast

Stranded – Tax Consequences for Nonresidents And Corporations From the Global Pandemic

Andrius R. Kontrimas

Andrius R. Kontrimas
Norton Rose Fulbright US LLP
Houston, TX

Andrius.kontrimas@nortonrosefulbright.com
713-651-5482

Stranded: Tax Consequences for Nonresidents and Corporations From the Global Pandemic

Andrius R. Kontrimas
Norton Rose Fulbright

68th Annual Taxation Conference
December 2-3, 2020

COVID travel restrictions and remote workforces have created numerous concerns for cross border employees and their employers including residency status of individuals, residence and tax jurisdiction of the employer entities, permanent establishment and sourcing issues.

Find the full text of this and thousands of other resources from leading experts in dozens of legal practice areas in the UT Law CLE eLibrary \(utcle.org/elibrary\)

Title search: Stranded: Tax Consequences for Nonresidents and Corporations from the Global Pandemic

Also available as part of the eCourse

2020 Taxation eConference

First appeared as part of the conference materials for the 68th Annual Taxation Conference session

"Stranded: Tax Consequences for Nonresidents and Corporations from the Global Pandemic"