Winter Storm Uri Comes to Texas

“Forecast temperatures at range were really impressive on computer models with some gaudy numbers being printed out for our area of Texas.”

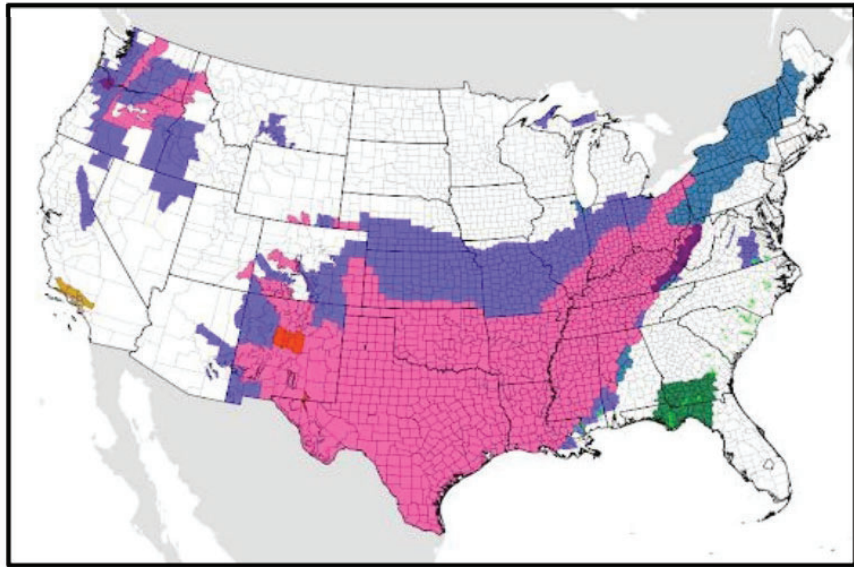

NWS Midland/Odessa

Surface Analysis on Feb 9th, 2021 at 12z. Circled: Center of the 1066mb high pressure that moved in from Siberia (Russia). High pressure nosed down the front range of the Rockies, sending Arctic air southward (Noted by arrows). Source: Weather Prediction Center
