

UT LAW SCHOOL 26TH LAND USE CONFERENCE

MUNICIPAL AUTHORITY TO TERMINATE LEGAL NONCONFORMING USES

Arthur J. Anderson
Winstead PC
Dallas, TX

Legal Nonconforming Uses

- Initially developed or used in compliance with zoning in effect at that time
- Otherwise the use is illegal and not allowed
- Planning policy is to discourage nonconforming uses
- Many legal nonconforming structures and uses exist

Voluntary Termination

- Tenant moves out and different tenant moves in
- Property is sold and redeveloped
- Nonconforming use of property shrinks
- One nonconforming use cannot transition to another nonconforming use

Involuntary Termination

- Destruction of structure or use (total or partial)
- Abandonment
 - Nonuse for a period of time
 - Overt act that carries the implication of abandonment
 - Intent to abandon
- Termination by amortization

Amortization

- Affords nonconforming property owner period of time to recoup investment
- Not authorized in Chapter 211, Tex. Loc. Gov't. Code
- Historically allowed by case law and city ordinance
- Typically role of the Board of Adjustment
- Set period of time for some uses
- § 43.002, Tex. Loc. Gov't. Code: Continuation of land uses following annexation

Two Step Process

- First hearing to determine if use has an adverse impact
 - Character of surrounding properties
 - Degree of incompatibility with current zoning district
 - Environmental, traffic and other impacts
- Second hearing to set a compliance date based on actual investment in the use before it became nonconforming

Find the full text of this and thousands of other resources from leading experts in dozens of legal practice areas in the UT Law CLE eLibrary \(utcle.org/elibrary\)

Title search: Municipal Authority to Terminate Legal Nonconforming Uses

Also available as part of the eCourse

Do Cities Have the Right to Unilaterally Terminate Legal Nonconforming Uses?

First appeared as part of the conference materials for the 26th Annual Land Use Conference session

"Do Cities Have the Right to Unilaterally Terminate Legal Nonconforming Uses?"