Provisions That Expired or Changed After 2021

Code Section	Topic	Change for 2022
163(h)(3)(E)	Mortgage insurance premiums	The ability to treat mortgage insurance premiums as deductible home mortgage interest expired for tax years beginning after 2021.
163(j)	Limit on deducting business interest	The deduction of business interest is limited by § 163(j). One component of the limit is 30% of “adjusted taxable income.” For tax years beginning before 2022, ATI was similar to EBITDA. For tax years beginning after 2021, depreciation, amortization and depletion are no longer added back to taxable income to determine ATI. Therefore, ATI is now similar to EBIT.

Section 174: Capitalization of Research or Experimental Expenditures

Outline: item B.1, page 4

- The 2017 Tax Cuts and Jobs Act, § 13206, amended Code § 174 to require the capitalization and amortization of specified research or experimental expenditures.
- The amortization period is 5 years (15 years for expenditures attributable to foreign research), beginning at the midpoint of the year in which the expenditures are paid or incurred.
- Applies to amounts paid or incurred in tax years beginning after 2021.
- The term “specified research or experimental expenditures”:
 - Defined as research or experimental expenditures paid or incurred by the taxpayer during a tax year in connection with taxpayer’s trade or business.
 - Includes expenditures for software development.
 - Includes depreciation and depletion
 - Does not include:
 - Amounts paid or incurred for ascertaining the existence, location, extent, or quality of any deposit of ore or other mineral (including oil and gas)
