Some Background...

- Texas: LOW regulation; dev. friendly
- LIMITED land use regulations outside cities
- Where are we today?
- My perspective:
 - Former municipal attorney
 - Now represent the private sector

The Struggle is Real!

Our Road Map

➤ The Power of the City Limits and ETJ Authority / Development Agreements

➤ Today:

- Ability to regulate development and limitations
- Issues suitable for development agreements

➤ Tomorrow: Development Agreements

- Case Law – James L. Dougherty, Jr.
- Enforcement – Arthur J. Anderson
- Negotiating & Enforcement – Reid Wilson / Grady Randle

4

Context for Regulation Outside Cities

- Authority to regulate land development in ETJ
 - Derived from a specific legislative grant of authority
 - If no city ordinance is legislatively authorized to be extended to the ETJ, then only county regulations apply
 - County authority is similar to that of a general law city – only that which is specifically granted by the legislature

Our Project Scenario

What does the landowner want?

- Control over the 500-acre ranch
- Located just outside of mid-sized city
- Only wants to develop a portion of the land
- Travel Stop (highest & best use; ROI)
- No taxes
- Economic Incentives?
