Americas M&A: 2023 Review and 2024 Outlook

M&A Resurgence in 2024 Bolstered by Diverse Driving Factors

Potential Drivers of Resurgence in Deal Activity

CEO Confidence

✓ CEO confidence has improved, a key driver of M&A

Longer Private Equity Asset Hold Periods Creating Robust M&A

✓ As private equity firms waited for market conditions to improve, median holding periods have increased to 6.3 years

Heightened Interest in Founder / Family-Owned Businesses

✓ Private equity firms, including large cap sponsors, steered towards founder-owned businesses for add-on opportunities and platforms

Converging Valuation Expectations

✓ Buyer and seller expectations are increasingly converging as valuation multiples have trended down relative to pandemic highs

Carveouts and Take-Private Transactions are Prevalent

✓ Carveouts represented ~30% of middle market M&A while take-private transactions reached a 10-year high

Continued Reliance on Tools to Bridge Valuation Gaps

✓ Median earnouts increased to ~33% as a percentage of deal size, underscoring their continued use to bridge value gaps

Potential Headwinds

Continued inflationary pressure and high interest rate environment

Geopolitical instability and tensions

Potential volatility ahead of U.S. Election
