Overview

- In September 2021, amended the sexual harassment provisions of the Texas Commission on Human Rights Act (“TCHRA”).
- Cause of action:
 - “An employer commits an unlawful employment practice if sexual harassment of an employee occurs and the employer or the employer’s agent’s or supervisors: (1) know or should have known that the conduct constituting sexual harassment was occurring; and (2) fail to take immediate and appropriate corrective action.”
 - Tex. Lab. Code § 21.142.
- Potentially more employee-friendly than Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 (“Title VII”) in certain ways.

Employers Subject to the TCHRA

- For purposes of only Section 21.142:
 - “Employer” as used in Section 21.142 means (in part) any “person who . . . employs one or more employees.” Section 21.141
- Compared to other sexual harassment provisions:
 - Title VII: “the term ‘employer’ means a person engaged in an industry affecting commerce who has fifteen or more employees” 42 U.S.C. § 2000e.
 - California’s Sexual Harassment law applies to private employers only if they “regularly employ[] five or more individuals.” Cal. Code Regs. tit. 2, § 11008.
- Other TCHRA provisions similarly only apply to employers with 15 or more employees.
