Estate planning is easy.

We just need to know
(i) when a client will pass away,
(ii) how wealthy the client will be, and
(iii) what the tax laws will be.

Putting Things in Perspective: 2000 vs. 2024

Tax Attribute	2000	2024
Gift/Estate Exemption	$675,000	$13,610,000
GST Tax Exemption	$1,030,000	$13,610,000
Maximum Tax Rate	55%	40%
Portability of Estate Exemption	No	Yes

New Planning Environment

- Large transfer tax exemptions, lower rates, and portability
- Shifting focus – minimize estate tax vs. income tax
- Uncertainty and fluidity of tax laws
 - Exemptions sunset in 2026
 - Potential legislation

Three Client Groups Based on Projected Net Worth

- 1) Clients who are unlikely to have a taxable estate
 - Focus on non-tax objectives
- 2) Clients who are likely to have a taxable estate
 - Business as usual
- 3) Clients who might have a taxable estate
 - Get creative
