- “But if with due regard for the practicalities and peculiarities of the case these conditions are reasonably met, the constitutional requirements are satisfied.”

- “But when notice is a person's due, process which is a mere gesture is not due process.”
- “The means employed must be such as one desirous of actually informing the absentee might reasonably adopt to accomplish it.”
- “The reasonableness and hence the constitutional validity of any chosen method may be defended on the ground that it is in itself reasonably certain to inform those affected.”
  - Mullane v. Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co.*, 339 US 306, 314 (1950)
