

DEDUCTIBILITY OF LONG-TERM CARE AS MEDICAL EXPENSES

Tresi Moore Weeks
Weeks Law Firm

Special Needs Trust
Conference
2023

© Tres Moore Weeks 2023

1

1

INTRODUCTION

© Tres Moore Weeks 2023

2

2

INTRODUCTION

- Maximize funds available to our clients
- Income tax deductions and credits
- How long-term care expenses can be deducted from income tax as medical expenses

INTRODUCTION

- Costs for long-term care deductible
 - For Chronically Ill Individual—who qualifies
 - Deduction taken by individual or relative if individual is a dependent
 - Who qualifies as a Dependent
 - In-home caregivers—what is deductible, what is not
 - How to deduct long-term care insurance premiums

MEDICAL EXPENSE DEDUCTION

- Amount of Deduction
 - If not compensated by insurance or other means
 - For those who itemize
 - Deduct expenses in excess of standard deduction
 - ($13K/26K)
 - To extent they exceed 7.5% of AGI

© Tresi Moore Weeks 2023

5

5

MEDICAL EXPENSE DEDUCTION

- Single taxpayer with $100K AGI
- Pays $15K mortgage interest, property and sales tax, so can itemize
- Supports person with disabilities-$50K long term care
- Medical expense deduction $42,500 (50,000-7500)

© Tresi Moore Weeks 2023

6

6

Find the full text of this and thousands of other resources from leading experts in dozens of legal practice areas in the UT Law CLE eLibrary \(utcle.org/elibrary\)

Title search: Deductibility of Long-Term Care as Medical Expenses

First appeared as part of the conference materials for the 19th Annual Changes and Trends Affecting Special Needs Trusts session
"Deductibility of Long-Term Care as Medical Expenses"