David W. Robertson's Last Case

The last case that Professor Robertson argued before his death was Batterton v. Dutra Group in the Ninth Circuit. That court held that an injured seaman may seek punitive damages in a general maritime law action for unseaworthiness. Three weeks before Professor Robertson died, the Supreme Court granted cert to review that judgment. Professor Sturley will discuss and analyze the Supreme Court's decision reversing the Ninth Circuit.

DAVID W. ROBERTSON

The Admiralty and Maritime Law Conference is named in honor of David W. Robertson, a beloved UT Law professor, who passed away in 2018. Professor Robertson had a 50-year career of tremendous distinction as a teacher and scholar, and national recognition as a leading authority on the law of admiralty and an important scholar in the field of torts. He was a brilliant teacher who loved what he did, and his legacy will live on not only in his many publications, but also in the work of the students and conference attendees who learned from him.
