PRESENTATION GOALS

Two goals of this presentation:

- 1) To provide a brief discussion of the history of the substantial evidence standard of review, and
- 2) Discuss the current law an administrative practitioner should know regarding substantial evidence

2

HISTORY OF SUBSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

- The term “substantial evidence” first appeared in federal statutes.
 - Trade Commission Act of 1914
- Courts began to read the term “evidence” into the interpretation.
- In 1922, the phrase was included in the Tariff Commission Act.
- The phrase was used again in 1930 under the Federal Radio Act of 1927.

HISTORY OF SUBSTANTIAL EVIDENCE

- Adoption of a uniform act was initially met with resistance.
- Momentum gained in response to President Roosevelt’s New Deal legislation.
- President Truman passed the federal Administrative Procedure Act in 1946.
