This presentation explores many things that are, no doubt, on those Wish Lists, including a working understanding of the conflict of interest rules, tools to help navigate those rules (like engagement letters and "I'm Not Your Lawyer" letters), the difference between the attorney-client privilege and the lawyer's ethical duty of confidentiality, and a proper appreciation of the application of the "No Contact" Rule. The presentation also provides some practical tips to help create a culture of sound risk management practices to help keep the attendee from getting on the General Counsel's or Risk Manager's Naughty List.
